

iFoundry Newsletter 2-5-2010

The HP Phenomenon

Co-authors of the newly released book, The HP Phenomenon, Innovation and Business Transformation, Charles H. House and Professor Raymond L. Price are holding a book talk on campus to discuss their new book with Illinois students and faculty. This event will take place on Thursday, February 11, from 3-5pm in room 106B1 Engineering Hall. To learn more and sign up for this unique event visit <https://illinois.edu/fb/sec/4483332>.

New World of Work (WOW) lecture series: Senior Engineering Designer plans visit to campus

Aaron Ferber, a senior designer for IDEO, has agreed to be a part of the World of Work student lecture series and present to Illinois engineering students. The presentation is scheduled for February 18 from 5-6pm in the NCSA auditorium. To learn more about IDEO and Mr. Ferber, visit www.ideo.com

ECS Career Fair

The Engineering Career Fair will take place next week on February 9th and 10th from 10am-3pm in the Illini Union, Rooms A, B and C. This fair is restricted to UIUC students and alumni only and will provide students with opportunities to meet with corporations who are seeking students to fill full time positions, semester/summer internships and co-ops. Visit <http://engineering.illinois.edu/careers> for more information and to register.

Passionate Pursuits

Do you have a passion outside engineering that you would like to share with your fellow classmates? Do you want to learn more about other engineering students and about their passions outside of the classroom? Join Passionate Pursuits EVERY THURSDAY from 12-1 pm in Engineering Hall Room 112! Everyone is welcome! Check out the passionate pursuit website, <http://www.wix.com/ifoundry/passionatepursuits> for more information and to sign up for a time slot.

New “Once in a Lifetime” Course offered

Tech Journalism in a Wired Era (ENG 498 TJW) will be offered this spring as an 8-week course earning one credit hour. This course is cross listed with the journalism department and will only be offered this one time. ENG 498 will focus on writing about technology for the public as well as how technology is changing journalism. Professor David E. Goldberg, iFoundry co-director, and Julian Dibbell, George A. Miller Visiting Professor during spring 2010, will teach the course which is available to both undergraduate and graduate students.

Tech Journalism in a Wired Era

CRN: 54110

Meeting 9:00 - 10:50 am Wednesdays in 1131 Siebel

NOTE: 8-week course: meets 15 Mar 2010 - 5 May 2010

1 credit hour (Satisfies LibEd designation in the College of Engineering)

Engineering Open House

Is your iTeam interested in presenting at this year's Engineering Open House on March 12th and 13th? Engineering Open House is an amazing opportunity to showcase technical skills and creativity to a multitude of distinguished campus visitors. Deadlines for this great, student facilitated event are approaching quick. Visit <http://eoh.ec.uiuc.edu/inside/> to register for the event and learn more about this fantastic opportunity available only to UIUC students.

iFoundry student seeks Senate Position

Ramy Cohen, iChair for the SSE iTeam for the spring semester, is running for a senate seat and would love your support. His Facebook group is posted on the iFoundry Facebook page and provides information about Ramy and his campaign positions. Best of luck!